Portage promises adventure. Distilled from our organic sugarcane spirit, this American gin features a swirl of bright botanicals balanced with a savory backbone of sumac and cubeb berries. Portage is a versatile gin that plays well in a range of cocktails, from classics like the martini and the gin and tonic to new creations that are just waiting to be discovered.

OUR PROCESS

For the past several hundred years, a neutral grain spirit has been the starting point for gin. We took a different approach, transforming the sugar cane base that we use to create our rum into a unique platform for Portage Gin.

Portage begins with a blend of certified organic evaporated cane juice and molasses, fermented with wine yeast at a slower, cooler temperature to preserve the fruit and floral notes of the sugar cane. Next, our master distiller Graham double-distills each small batch in our custom-built copper pot still, relying on over twenty years of experience to make precise cuts.

At this point, Graham macerates a unique mix of twelve botanicals in the rum, carefully blending them to create a nuanced and distinctive gin expression. Graham then redistills Portage, adding pure Sebago Lake water to proof the gin to a smooth 90.

While it would have been easier for us to follow the well-worn path of a grain and juniper-forward gin, we think you will agree that the trail we blazed with Portage leads us to a delicious new destination.

WHO WE ARE

Three of Strong Spirits is based in a converted warehouse in the bustling East Bayside neighborhood of Portland, Maine. We believe that there are no shortcuts when it comes to producing super premium spirits. We use our vibrant tasting room as the testing ground to create small batch expressions that can stand on their own but also play well in cocktails.
